

2016-2017 Metro OKC Interpreter Workshop Series

There will be FREE workshop opportunities for those in the field of interpreting.

All workshops will be presented at:

OSU/OKC

900 N. Portland

Student Center Conference Room North

OKC, OK

6:00p.m. – 8:00p.m.

Tues., October 11, 2016 - "The Art Side" - Presenters: Jesselyn Nakolo and Kevin Jones

Have you ever wanted to know what is involved in artistic interpreting? If so, this workshop will address planning and set up for artistic interpreting, examples of theatrical interpreting, script/lyric dissection, and small group activities.

Tues., November 8, 2016 - "SSP's and Interpreters for the Deaf Blind" – Presenters: D'Andra Parsons and Jerri Smith

The goal is to open dialogue about defining roles, working collaboratively, and discussing the ethical considerations at hand when working an assignment as part of an interpreter/SSP team in order to improve the services to the Deaf Blind clients.

Tues., December 13, 2016 - "Where do I fit in with a medical team?" – Presenters: Anne Byrd and co-presenter

When does sharing medical information with a team become gossip verses an ethical SAFE interchange? Let's explore and network on how to avoid ethical dilemmas when relieving or working as a team member in the medical field.

Tues., February 14, 2017 - "You be You and I'll be You: An Introduction" (sociolinguistics) - Presenter: Justin Lee

This workshop will focus on learning terminology related to the field of Sociolinguistics and how it applies to interpreting. Discover the importance of remaining faithful to the source message at a sociolinguistics level, and the need to be aware of the influences and biases involved.

Tues, March 14, 2017 - TBA

Tues., April 11, 2017 - "Business of Interpreting" – Presenter: Stephanie Nichols

This workshop will discuss specific planning and key components in how to be a successful private practice interpreter.

RID and ICRC/QAST CEUs will be applied for

